Hörmann RollMatic 2 Roller Garage Door – enhanced performance from the market leader

Hörmann UK have announced the launch of their RollMatic 2 roller garage door, a new and improved version of their well-established RollMatic door. Developed to specifically address the industry wide problem of scratching associated with roller doors, Hörmann have combined the inherent technological benefits from the original RollMatic with new features to further enhance the performance of the leading roller door on the market.

Using material technology originally developed for the Automotive market, Hörmann have added their unique Durabelt system which provides cushioning as the door curtain rolls up. Located within the barrel, Durabelt consists of a tape-like material which sits between the inner and outer face of the curtain and helps to reduce the risk of marking or scratching due to grit or other foreign objects. The reduction of lath-on-lath contact has also resulted in a noticeable reduction of noise as the door opens and closes when compared to other roller doors on the market.

Featuring a 77mm lath, RollMatic 2 is available as either internal or external roller options. It is available in heights from 1600mm to 3100mm and widths from 1000mm to 6000mm. RollMatic 2 is also supplied with Hörmann BlueSecur Bluetooth automation as standard, recognizing the growth within the end consumer market for home automation accessed via a Smart phone.

Available in Traffic white and 13 RAL colours as well as Chartwell green and Noir sable (Anthracite metallic), RollMatic 2 is also available in two Decopaint and Decograin timber design options enabling installers to offer end consumers ample choice when personalising their garage door to match the design and style of their home.

Alex Mackay, Product and Technical Support Manager at Hörmann UK comments, “The RollMatic range of roller doors has proved to be extremely popular over the past 13 years since the first door was launched. At Hörmann we want to supply products that address market trends and offer solutions, hence the work that has been carried out to further improve our roller door range with the introduction of RollMatic 2.

Coupled with the RollMatic T and alongside the RollMatic OD we now offer the market a range of excellent roller doors which are suitable for both the premium and more competitive sectors of the market, with all products offering the guarantee of quality and safety expected from Hörmann.”

Hörmann will be displaying the RollMatic 2 door on their stand at the FIT Show – Stand No. S11, Hall 3A.
