Hörmann announce dates for 2025 installation and product training

Hörmann UK have announced the dates for their 2025 domestic and industrial training programme which will be held at their Academy in Coalville. The company is offering over fifty sessions covering both installation and product training, with courses provided free of charge exclusively for their trade partners.

Sessions for the domestic fitter will include training on the correct installation of the complete range of Hörmann garage doors, entrance doors and operators, with product features and benefits, correct specification and pricing being covered in the Sales and Product modules. Courses for the industrial sector will cover the installation of the full range of Hörmann industrial doors and their extensive selection of dock levellers, together with product training to provide a greater understanding of the whole product range and its' capabilities.

A new and bespoke online site has been developed, Hörmann Events, which provides detailed information on the content of each individual course, together with available dates and a simple booking system.

David O'Mara, Marketing Manager at Hörmann UK comments, " Since its' launch in 2019 the Hörmann Academy has played a key role in providing effective and valuable training to our partners and dealers. Last year we delivered over fifty courses and trained in excess of two hundred people, and 2025 once again sees us offering a truly comprehensive training programme.

Everyone who attends a course is asked to provide feedback on their experience and we constantly receive a very positive response, with 100% of attendees agreeing that the training was detailed and informative, and 100% stating that they would recommend the course to their colleagues.

All of the courses are extremely popular and always get booked fast, so my advice is to visit the site and reserve your space.”

Face to face training courses at the Academy are also supported by a range of training video's covering the most commonly faced issues which are available on the Hörmann UK YouTube channel.
